Journal Policies

The Sarawak Museum Journal is published by the Sarawak Museum Department. As it is a Government Department in the State of Sarawak, it should be clearly understood that responsibility for facts and opinion rests exclusively with authors of the articles, and their writings do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of the Sarawak Museum Department, or that of the State Government of Sarawak. The Sarawak Museum Journal practises a double-blind peer-reviewed system on each manuscript prior to its publication in the journal. All manuscripts considered for publication will be peer-reviewed by independent referees.

Aims and Scope

The Sarawak Museum Journal (SMJ) is devoted to the advancement of knowledge in the natural and human sciences. It publishes articles pertaining to the whole region in general, but particularly on areas related to Sarawak history and heritage. Generally, it accepts manuscripts from international researchers, but specifically it serves the need of local scientists especially those working with, in and through the Sarawak Museum Department to publish their research findings and to provide a forum for their scholastic discourse.

- One issue is published annually by the Sarawak Museum Department in printed and electronic versions.
- The Sarawak Museum Journal encourages submission of manuscripts dealing with all interdisciplinary topics related to Ethnography, Archaeology, Natural History, History, Conservation and Museology.
- Sarawak Museum Journal published original research work, either as full length articles or as short communications, review articles and special issues.

Guidelines for Authors The manuscript should be submitted in Microsoft Word (.docx / .doc) format and concisely written in English language or in Malay (please provide a Title and an Abstract in English). The submission must include a cover letter explaining the novelty of the work and in what way does the manuscript benefit Sarawak or the journal. Please submit via Email to gafellgt@sarawak.gov.my.

Footnotes should be assembled at the end of the text as Notes. References should be given with the author's surname and year of publication in the text and works listed at the end of the paper in alphabetical order of the first author's surname. Figures (charts, graphs or any illustrations) and Tables should be clearly presented.
